Dear Resident

Keeping the slip-road safe

It's been some months now since I met with a number of residents to look at the problem of caravans using the slip road outside of your homes.

I was pleased that Norfolk County Council agreed to put a sign at the end of the road warning caravan drivers that the road was not suitable for their use. But I thought I should check with you to make sure the signs have worked.

This has been a really tough year for everyone, including the holiday business. I imagine the number of caravans coming to the village has been lower than normal. But I would be very glad to hear whether you think the signs have helped. My contact details are all at the bottom of the page.

Very best wishes.

Yours sincerely

PS. Everyone is rightly concerned about data security these days. So, I thought you would want to know that I have access to your name and address through the electoral register which I am able to use for my work as a councillor. I will never share your details with anyone.
